GREETINGS from the Doll House

WITHINGTON AUCTION, Inc. - Hillsborough, NH - October - 2023

Most of us around these parts agree that fall is our favorite time of year! Autumn in New Hampshire is the most idyllic time - warm, sunny, bug-less days and cool crisp good-sleeping nights... put away your fans and A/C, eh-ya.. won't be needing these for another nine months. A time for apple-pickin' and selecting the best pumpkins for carving. The swamp maples are first to display their colors - a prelude to what's in store. In that light, we usually judge the autumn foliage as a sort of "crop", predicting how the colors will be this season: wet and cool? Hot and dry? Which one's best - you never know what to expect when the fickle Mother Nature is in charge. However, this year, the maples are definitely stressed, leaves shriveling and dropping off early, leaving many trees naked already. This summer, the weather stats report that there were 13 out of 16 rainy weekends. Compared with the south west, with the record-breaking 100 degree days and no rain, we should be thankful. A couple of weeks ago at the local Farmer's Market, I noticed the gal that brings the best native produce was upset. After three solid days of the torrential rains in the southern NH, where her family farm is, ... twenty-six acres of mostly ornamental gourds, pumpkins, squashes ... were a total loss! It's disappointing for the scarcity of the seasonal decorations, but how sad for the farmers who depend on that final blast of autumn business to sustain them.

In the Auction business, the fall signals the end of the active season for us, as we put the finishing touches on the October Live doll auction in Nashua, we look forward to quieter time during the off-season around the Doll House. For our doll friends, November is the annual meeting of the Doll Collectors of America at the Wentworth by the Sea in Rye, NH and Wendy Collins' Seacoast Doll Show, and people come from around the country to attend. Special events like these bring our doll friends together in person, and sharing real is so important ... now more than ever.

In the Summer is usually a busy time, traveling far and wide to pick up the dollies for the final auction ... but this year, several collections, instead were delivered to the dollhouse! Perhaps a remodeling job... and the dolls were in the way. Coming to NH to visit an old friend...in a town close by... or finally making the decision to see Mom's doll collection.... needed to be expedited... lest she changed her mind. Additionally, a couple of collections were delivered to the June auction in Nashua, so we are not lacking for dolls!

However, perhaps the most remarkable "Special Delivery" of the summer was the Mystery Collection from California....

We received a call from an agent who has been doing estate settlement and liquidation for many years. The house he was working on was FULL of dolls! One learns to be skeptical in this business, the large quantity didn't necessarily mean Quality. Often times they are in original boxes, with certificates of authenticity, limited edition.... from Ashton Drake, Franklin Mint, etc. Send some photos and we'll evaluate the collection.... it would have to be pretty outstanding to justify a pick-up on the west coast. Much to our amazement, there was not a single "Bertha the Beautiful Bride" or other such limited edition celebrities. There were familiar French faces... Jumeau and Bru, and Steiner, too. There were many Lencis, and K*R Characters ... all it seemed too good to be true, but the bottom line was subject to condition, restorations, reproductions... in order to do that, we would have to see the dolls in person. Did we really want to make the trip!? The decision was made for us...the gentleman had done his research and decided Withington's was the best Doll Auction company around, (honesty and we pay immediately), he wanted us to do the project. And as a Bonus! he had been in the shipping business for 25 years... He would SHIP the collection!! Well that was unbelievable. So the first 200 or so dolls in the auction catalog are our California Girls.... from a seasoned collector, active in the 1980's and that's all we know. Evaluating the collection there are around 75 French dolls from Brus, to Long-face Jumeaux, Steiners... some Fashions, mostly Bebes... . There were many examples of early issue Lenci, including the portrait Rudolph Valentino Arab... who adorned the cover of Antique Doll Collector Magazine a few months ago... along with a Russian Cossack with a partial Italian Label, not found in any books. Lots of Lenci girls in colorful felt attire, even a Russian Tea cozy C. 1930. K * R - 101, 114, 117, 100, Characters in many sizes. As for the shipping... it took our California friend a while to master the art of shipping DOLLS ... so around a half dozen need some serious "work" we saved most of the pieces... of course as Murphy's Law would say... it was the French dolls who suffered the most... probably beyond repair...But the bodies are really nice!!

In May, sadly we received the dreaded phone call.. Phyllis Kransberg had passed at 96 years old. Reflecting on my 25 years of being involved with the Withington doll auction family... Phyllis and her husband Eddie were my first acquaintances. I'll always remember how warm and welcoming both were towards me. Phyllis was probably one of the first Boston Study girls to attend a Withington Doll auction in 1959... and Eddie would bring her to every night auction preview to survey the collections to see if there was some special "doll oddity" that she couldn't live without. Over the years, we made many trips to pick up dolls from Phyllis' collections... as she down-sized into smaller quarters ...and we expected that each visit would be an adventure. Our final gathering of Phyllis' doll friends included the Quirky, humorous, both in words and pictures. There were many Asian dolls, which she loved and was rather an expert in the field. She once found a Japanese Friendship Doll at a local auction, (the Japanese government gifted 50 of these dolls, one for each state, as sort of a peace offering after the WWII. Over the years, many of the dolls were lost or destroyed and today only about 30 are accounted for.) And Phyllis with her keen eye and knowledge, recognized the treasure. She bought the doll reasonably and found the right collector who would preserve and protect this piece of our history, while making a tidy profit in the process. We are conditioned to believe that all the lesser dolls in a collection are the first to go along with the really big ones! The 4th and final visit to Beverly, of course, had many Asian dolls and more, tiny dolls and accessories, early wooden, Papier Mache, Queen Ann. Phyllis saved everything! Trays full of tiny treasure for our enjoyment.... among the old letters, birthday wishes, and report cards from grammar school. But you wouldn't find a French Bebe in the bunch! Phyllis didn't HATE them... but they were not here cup of tea. I'm sure you will find this treasure hunt fascinating. I believe she has one of every Frozen Charlotte ever made. The hours we spent at Phyllis' with her daughter Patty and granddaughters, had a way of soothing the sadness left by her passing. She lived a very long life, was married to a man that adored her (I remember Eddie looking across the auction hall and seeing Phyllis, exclaimed, "She is the most beautiful woman I have ever seen!") She was always joyful, laughing freely, she was a voracious reader and never stopped learning. We tend to evaluate a doll collection by how many French dolls there are... but as we study her collections, acquired over a long and fruitful life.... you can gather a better understanding of who the collector was. Phyllis' life was intertwined with her treasures in her cozy 2-bedroom apartment ... a living breathing thing, it was a an extension of herself - full of "things" she collected and each one was special in its own way ... just as her perfume filled her space, we were aware of her spirit was still with us. We'll miss you Phyllis... say Hello to Dick.

Sincerely,
Marcial & Larry Leizure
